

I'm Free

*Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free,
I'm following the path God laid for me.
I took his hand when I heard his call,
I turned my back and left it all.
I could not stay another day,
To laugh, to love, to work, to play.
Tasks left undone must stay that way,
I've found that peace at the end of the day.
If my parting has left a void,
Then fill it with remembered joy.
A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss,
Ah, yes, these things too I will miss.
Be not burdened with times of sorrow,
I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow.
My Life's been full, I savoured much,
Good friends, good times, a loved one's touch.
Perhaps my time seemed all too brief,
Don't lengthen it now with undue grief.
Lift up your heart and share with me,
God wanted me now, He set me free.*

Obituary

Meredith Louisa McGee, also known as "Mere," was born in Bridgeport, Connecticut on June 18, 1972, to the late Grady McGee and Wanda McGee Harrington. At an early age, she and her family moved to Winston-Salem, North Carolina where she remained a lifelong resident. She was the great niece of the late Bishop Eli Neal, founder of Saint Peter's Apostolic Church and was predeceased by her uncles, Charles Neal, Lloyd Gambrell and Sam Montgomery. Educated in the public school system, Meredith received training in cosmetology, which became her passion. She later attended Forsyth Technical College where she received formal instruction as a Certified Nurse Assistant. Meredith spent the past several years of her life employed as a private duty nurse. She loved her children and grandson, dearly. She will be fondly remembered for her fashionable hairstyling, manicures and love of music.

She leaves to cherish her memory her loving children Paulanizia D. Davis, Kwame L. Crockett, Sr., and Chrishawn R. K. Crockett, all of the city; a grandson, Kwame L. Crockett, Jr. of the city; a brother, Timothy Neal (Ryoko) of the city; and two aunts, Queen Crosby and Pearl McClary of the city. She is additionally survived by an extended family of first cousins and friends who were touched by her life.
